

Grace trained as an Actor musician at Rose Bruford and has been lucky enough to work in some of the UK's best theatres. She has performed in the UK and internationally in shows such as Footloose, Assassins, Return to the Forbidden Planet and many more. Grace is also a regular in pantomime at Christmas and recently won the award for Best Leading Female in the Great British Pantomime Awards for her role as Beauty in Beauty and the Beast.

When she's not performing in the theatre, you might be able to see her with the New York Brass Band playing Saxophone – together, they have played at Glastonbury Festival, Pixie Lott's Wedding and on TV for The Last Leg!

Grace currently teaches one to one instrument lessons at Leeds Conservatoire and helps students find their own unique style. She is well poised to teach everything from Saxophone, Clarinet, Piano to drama school audition technique and music theatre singing and even acting through singing!
